

I do not wish to have solicitation calls from the banks and/or credit card companies that I have a business relationship with. They are notorious for calling with all sorts of offers from theft protection for your credit card to life insurance, travel discounts, and other assorted types of offers 'you must have!'